WE CAN FIGHT BRAIN TUMOURS WITH YOUR HELP...

....Brain tumours can affect anyone and cannot be prevented because their cause is unknown. Brain tumour research is still very much in its infancy, with very little known about the behaviour of tumours, their effective diagnosis and treatment, let alone finding a cure. At least £7 million per annum needs to be raised. This would fund seven centres of excellence, each specialising in the cause, treatment and potential cure for brain tumours, bringing hope to 1000s of brain tumour patients and their families.

We need your help to fund vital research.

Brain tumours cut short the lives of more children, teenagers and adults under the age of 40 than any other cancer. Survival rates are shockingly low in comparison with other cancers. Leukaemia Research now raises £23 million a year. Thanks to the extraordinary work of Leukaemia Research and other charities, the five year survival rate is 80% compared to 20% 30 years ago. UK brain tumour charities currently raise around £2million between them, but we want to do much more.

We need your help to save lives.

The effects of brain tumours are devastating. 16,000 people each year in the UK are diagnosed with a brain tumour. 40% are primary tumours originating in the brain, the remainder are secondary tumours which have spread from other sites in the body. 25% of all cancers spread to the brain. Whether malignant or benign, brain tumours are life threatening. They can provoke major changes in personality and leave patients with permanent disabilities. This is particularly distressing for family and friends.

We need your help on behalf of all those affected by brain tumours.
