Monday 19th July 2010, 7:56AM BST.

A Shropshire man and his friend who are taking part in a 15,500-mile charity cycle ride from Shrewsbury to Australia are set to become stars of the small screen after featuring on Serbian TV's answer to "Top Gear".

Henry Brydon, 25, left Kingsland, Shrewsbury, on April 28 before he met up with friend Jamie King in London.

The pair agreed to carry out filming and an interview for the show the day after attending the opening night of the music event Exit Festival in the city of Novi Sad.

In the feature, which was broadcast on Saturday night, they say they are enjoying their trip.

Henry says: "Obviously cycling is truly fun but it's nice to know that in an 18-month period we are totally environmentally friendly.

"We are not polluting the atmosphere in the form of transport we use."

And after the broadcast the pair noted on their Facebook page: "Cannot avoid being stopped on the streets of Serbia after our recent performance."

Henry, a former recruitment consultant, said the cycling challenge was extremely important to him as he is trying to raise £25,000 for Brain Tumour Research after his brother Jack was diagnosed at the age of 17 in 2003.

He has since made a full recovery but still has to undergo regular check-ups.
